The Detroit Community Lady Hurricanes Basketball Round-Up

Detroit, MI—Around Detroit Community High School there was much anticipation to the 2012-13 Varsity Girls Basketball season. The DCH Lady Hurricanes returned four starters and five players overall — senior, Briana Wright and four juniors, Carmisha Legion, Micah McCullough, Ti-Lynn Williamson and Keiara Walton from a team that assembled a 12-5 overall record last season. The optimism from last year provided the Lady Canes confidence and the maturity needed to enter the 2012-13 campaign with the determination to build on their success.

The Lady Canes first contest of the season matched them against Melvindale ABT on the Tuesday, November 27, 2012. Melvindale forfeited giving Community its first victory of the season.

Community's first real action came against Detroit Central on Friday, November 30, 2012 in the first game of a back-to-back. The defense of DCH opened the game, stifling Central, using a 24-0 nothing run to close the first quarter with a 24 point lead. Community was lead by Briana Wright (16 points), Micah McCullough (14 points) and Carmisha Legion (13 points). The match ended with DCH winning 57-17, making DCH 2-0.

On the following day Saturday, December 1, 2012, closing out the back-to-back, the Lady Canes matched wits with Henry Ford Academy at home winning 58-19 improving Community's record to 3-0. The Lady Canes were led Micah McCullough (24 points) and Carmisha Legion and Ti-Lynn Williamson added 10 points apiece. The Lady Canes damaging and destructive defense held HFA to single digits in every quarter (4, 8, 5, 2) to cap the impressive defensive outing.

DCH on one day's rest stepped back on the court Monday, December 3, 2012, to play their first road game against Southfield Christian High School. A valiant effort was turned in by Southfield Christian, in particular star guard, Charity Goldbold (32 points). However, the trio of Carmisha Legion (24 points), Briana Wright (12 points) and Micah McCullough (12 points) was too much for Southfield Christian. Community notched another win (4-0) with a score of 64-36.

The toughest match-up of the young season for the Detroit Community Lady Hurricanes came on the night of Tuesday, December 4, 2012 on road against the Romulus Lady Eagles. Romulus made Community take tough shots all game and Carmisha Legion (12 points) was the only person to compile double figures for DCH. The Lady Eagles stiff defense turned the Lady Hurricanes into a light drizzle, causing DCH to shoot 24% from the field and the final score 59-24 was Community's first loss of the season. Romulus recorded three players in double digits—Jasmine Parker (16 points), Cierra Bond (14 points) and Bianca Buckley (13 points).

Community returned to the floor Thursday, December 6, 2012 with a home game against Old Redford Academy trying to revisit their winning ways. Early on one would have thought the team with the last possession would secure the victory and at the half, DCH held a slight four point lead. However, opening the third stanza on a 17-2 run, the Lady Canes never relinquished the lead and protected their home turf winning by a score of 58-49. Community was lead by the consistent play of Carmisha Legion (18 points, 12 rebounds) and Briana Wright (16 points, eight rebounds, seven assists). Old Redford recorded two players in double figures Sharai Allen (20 points) and Tazjanae Bryant (17 points). DCH (5-1) will travel to Saginaw, MI to play Nouvel at 6:30 pm on Monday, December 10, 2012.
